

INTL FCStone Ltd. Deploys OCX Trader App Built on Integral Technology to Expand Mobile Trading Services

Clients can stay connected and gain access to live transactions through their mobile device

PALO ALTO (June 26, 2019) – Integral (www.integral.com), the technology partner trusted by leading banks, brokers and asset managers to help them outperform their competition in the foreign exchange market, announced today that INTL FCStone Ltd (INTL) has deployed an FX trading app built on the Integral platform to expand mobile trading services to its institutional customers.

INTL provides global expertise in trading and clearing in the full spectrum of OTC FX instruments. The group is committed to providing its clients with state-of-the-art electronic market access. With increasing demand for mobile trading, clients can now access the same functionality as the online INTL system through their mobile devices.

Mike Wilkins, Head of FX INTL FCStone Europe commented on the announcement, “Responding to the needs of our clients, the INTL FCStone OCX Trader app provides a secure and high-performance destination for mobile trading. The app delivers all the essential trading tools in combination with the unique features, excellent service and support our clients have come to expect from the group. Our established partnership with Integral meant we were extremely confident we could extend the Integral platform to meet our customers’ mobile trading needs.”

“Integral’s cloud-based technology spans the entire FX lifecycle and offers a full-service solution to clients,” said Harpal Sandhu, Integral CEO. “The platform can be customized to meet our clients evolving requirements, including the integration of our mobile app technology so their customers can trade whenever and wherever necessary.”
