Integral Reports Client Average Daily Volumes of $45.7 billion in October 2022

Volumes decreased -10.7% month-on-month and -9.5% year-on-year.

PALO ALTO, California (November 7, 2022) – Integral (www.integral.com), a leading technology company in the foreign exchange market, reported today that customers' average daily volumes (ADV) across Integral platforms totaled $45.7 billion in October 2022. This represents a decrease of -10.7% compared to September 2022 and a decrease of -9.5% compared to the same period in 2021.

Integral's cloud-based SaaS FX workflow solutions have been designed to meet the trading needs of the widest variety of buy-side FX market participants, including banks, brokers, asset managers, and hedge funds. Clients leverage the deep and diverse FX liquidity available through our platforms within an integrated environment.

Despite the monthly decrease seen in October, the overall growth in volumes seen in the past years across Integral's clients is testament to high quality technology infrastructure that market participants are seeking out when conducting business in the foreign exchange, precious metals and CFD markets.
